¹ Listed are the exhibits the Defense may enter during its case-in-chief. Please note the Defense does not seek pre-admission of these exhibits, as the decision to present a defense and enter the evidence in trial cannot be made until the Government has completed its case-in-chief and pending evidentiary issues have been resolved. Because the Defense's Exhibit List is being filed almost five weeks in advance of trial, the Defense may request leave at a later date to submit a limited number of additional exhibits that it identifies while preparing for trial. Additionally, the Defense reserves its rights to offer rebuttal evidence in response to testimony presented by Government witnesses.
